

Rebecca Dockery serves as the Assignment Officer for Diplomatic Security Service Special Agents in the Office of Career Development and Assignments. In June of this year, she will begin her tenure as a Special Assistant to the Assistant Secretary for Diplomatic Security. Her other domestic assignments include the Washington Field Office, Houston Field Office, Office of International Programs, and she supervised the Diplomatic Security Training Center's Special Agent program.

A Texas native, SA Dockery joined the U.S. Department of State in 1985. She has been responsible for U.S. Embassy security programs in Senegal, the Gambia, Guinea Bissau, the Republic of Georgia, Armenia, Azerbaijan, and the Netherlands. She also served as Deputy Security Director for the Moscow Embassy Building Construction Project. She speaks French, Russian, and Czech.

SA Dockery is married to John Dockery, a Foreign Service Officer. They have two daughters.